

Sponsor Spotlight

Organically Grown

Delivering Produce to the People Since 1978

Organically Grown Company sources, aggregates, and distributes fresh, organic produce to retailers, restaurants, and eaters across the Pacific Northwest. For more than 40 years the company's progressive and entrepreneurial spirit has fueled its mission and growth, meeting the demand for organics in the marketplace while supporting its community of farmers. In its journey to promote and build sustainable food systems, OGC has become a leader in rethinking ownership, financing and ethical operating practices, as well as what it means to be part of the larger organic movement. OGC is driven by a future that requires stewardship of the planet and a just food system and is dedicated to doing its part to make it happen. Learn more at organicgrown.com

Ladybug Brand offers a year-round assortment of delicious, certified organic fruits and vegetables, from everyday favorites like blueberries, potatoes, winter squash, green beans, Brussels sprouts and mini sweet peppers, to specialty items like kiwi berries, rhubarb and root vegetables. Look for Ladybug Brand items at your favorite grocery store!

Brought to you with love by

A portion of sales is donated to nonprofits cultivating a more equitable, just and resilient organic food system.

Photo courtesy of Wobbly Cart Farm

This January, the South Sound saw near historic flooding levels. Many farms & fields were in jeopardy & some had to evacuate. Dry building space at SCFC, owned by Wobbly Cart Farm, (See pg. 8) is leased to neighboring farmers to safely store hay bales & equipment out of the Chehalis River Flood zone.

Learn more about How To Prepare For Emergencies On Your Farm at communityfarmlandtrust.org/events.

